

December 31st Traffic/Winter Weather Advisory

Winter weather precipitation is forecasted for our area beginning in the morning of Thursday, December 31, 2009. While significant precipitation accumulation is not expected, motorists traveling may want to exercise caution for possible slippery conditions, such as on bridge decks and overpasses.